BALL GROUNDS ANNOUNCED. ON WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, AT 165TH STREET.

New Club Owned by Joseph Gordon, John B. Day and Others, Who Have Allied Themselves With the American League Johnson Makes His Statement.

Promptly at 9 o'clock last night at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, Ban Johnson, president the American League, made public the cation of the new ball grounds in this city, together with the names of the men who will conduct the affairs of the new The new club will be controlled by Joseph Gordon, who will be the new ident, and who will have John B. Day ciated with him and a syndicate, the tity of which will be made known by Mr. Gordon in a few days. Mr. Gordon is a New Yorker by birth. He was the president of the Metropolitan Baseball Club of the American Association back in the '80s and was also a stockholder in the New York National League club when Mr. Day was the principal owner and ident. He is a member of the Democratic, New York Athletic, Tilden and ontiac clubs, was a member of the Legissture in 1888, and was Superintendent of Buildings here in 1901. He is in the coal and wood business and resides at 100 West Eightleth street. One of his closest friends s John B. Sexton, former Police Commissioner. President Johnson's official

*The New York American League club will play ball this year at grounds located between 165th street on the south, 168th street on the north, Eleventh avenue on the east and Fort Washington road on the west. The location, of course, is on Manhattan Island, and fulfils the promise made by the American League. The grounds are not intersected by 166th and 167th streets, and are thet largest in the country. On the east side they are 797 feet long, while on the west side the length is 778 feet. On the north they are 698 feet wide, while on the south they are 538 feet wide. The 168th street station of the new underground road is located at the northeast corner of the grounds. As the subway will not be leted in time for use this year, patrons of the American League will be compelled to use the surface roads, which pass within a block of the property on Amsterdam avenue. The Third and Sixth avenue trolleys go direct, while all the elevated roads transfer to the 125th street crosstown ine, which also goes past the grounds.

"The new president of the New York

American League club will be Joseph Gordon, who was associated with John B. Day in the New York National League olub fifteen years ago. Mr. Day will be necessary to do some little blasting on the property in order to get it into shape, but he contractors will begin work to-morrow morning and work on the stands will follow within a few days. There will be seating capacity for 16,000 spectators. The plans for the stands have been submitted to the building Department and a permit has been granted to proceed with the work.

The property belongs to the New York

Institute for the Blind, and has been leased
by the American League club for ten

All of the above named players were signed except Bransfield, who accepted the terms offered him by the agents of the American League, and who also agreed to sign a contract, but later Bransfield decided to remain with Pittsburg for the coming season. Of the other seven, Leach, Conroy and Smith jumped their contracts and went back to Pittsburg. At the recent peace conference at Cincinnati Conroy was awarded to the New York Americans. rounding up the players for the New York team and signed all of them except Willie Keeler. I. personally, conducted the negotiations with the little Brooklyn star, and found him a most satisfactory individual to do business with. It took a great deal of money to land this team, which I have every reason to believe will rank high among the leaders in the American League race.

"Early steps were then taken to secure grounds in this city. So much had been ead about the advisability of locating on Manhattan Island that it was natural for us to look for grounds below the Harlem River. W. E. Callender, a real estate man, acted as our agent here, and it was he who opened negotiations for the Lenox avenue property extending from 142d street to 144th street, then east to the Harlem River. These negotiations were opened the latter part of September. A part of this property belonged to the Pinckney estate, and the balance to Mrs. Curtis. Mrs. Curtis positively refused to lease the property, but was willing to sell. After negotiations running through six weeks, a proposition in writing was submitted by the lawyer for the two estates, providing for a ten years' lease of the Pinckney estate and the cale of the Curtis estate for $225,000. This proposition was immediately accepted by wire and later confirmed by letter. C. W. Somers, J. F. Kilfoyl and others were the ones who were ready to buy the Curtis.

Somers, J. F. Kilfoyl and others were the ones who were ready to buy the Curtis estate.

"From the very beginning the lawyer for the estates positively assured us that 143d street could be closed according to law. The petition was to be made by Mrs. Pinckney asking that the street be closed for business purposes. But before this was done, the advantages of interesting Mr. August Belmont were shown to us. Dougles Robinson was the man who made a proposition to Mr. Heimont for the purtishes of the Pinckney cetate. The Amorican Lague furnished satisfactory financial references, and we finally received advices that everything would go through without a fatch. We never show the matter rould come before the board of directors of the Rajad Transal Conditions than but? It is now generally known how the matter was electrosteed. mittee from the directors of the institute could meet the Gordon syndicate. That committee did not report back to the institute until 3:0 o'clock this afternoon, when the whole deal was ratified and everything was placed in black and white.

"Had there been a tlip-up on this property we had everything thaped to the minute to sign a lease for the Astor estate at 161st street and Jerome avinue, in which event the American League would have cor ducted the club. Other sites 'that we locked at were 166th street and Amsterdam avenue, 129th street and Second avenue ard four sites in The Bronx. It was the Astor estate which had to be surveyed on Tuesday, so that the public can see how closely we had to draw the lines. We could not fail in this undertaking, for we always had an anchor to windward and there never was a moment when we were not confident of success.

"The new club will be incorporated in a moment when we were not confident of success.

"The new club will be incorporated in a few days and Mr. Gordon will be elected to the presidency. It will then be up to him to look out for the New York end of the American League, and I know that he will meet with the hearty support of the baseball public."

President Gordon and Mr. Day were both present when the news was given out. Mr. Gordon made this statement later in the evening.

Challenge for the Manhasset Cup.

The first challenge for the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club cup for 20-footers has been made by the Indian Harbor club on behalf of H. L. Maxwell, who has recently purchased the sloop yacht Oiseau. Mr. Maxwell used to own the Oiseau and sold that boat to Isaac Stern, who took the boat to Kiel and raced there last summer. The Oiseau was renamed Virginia II. Mr. Maxwell will give the name Oiscan to the yacht.

The races for the cup will be sailed on July

The races for the cup will be sailed on July 1, 2 and 3. The course will be to windward and return. 16 miles in all, and a triangular course of 18 miles. The Indian Harbor club having been the first to challenge for this trophy will arrange the conditions of the match with the Manhasset Bay club and if other yachtsmen want to they can enter and race under these conditions and the winner will be the yacht scoring the most points in the series of races. Each yacht is credited with a point for cach boat it beats and an additional point for starting. It is expected that three or possibly four more challenges will be made and the races will be very interesting.

New Orleans, La., March 12.—The Bush Cup has been won and the race is now part of the history of the Crescent City Jockey Club. The meek and lowly son of Bob Miles. The Way, took the handsome piece of plate and incidentally enriched his owner and his owner's friends. The cup race was at two miles and a quarter and brought out a field of six. The books opened up the Corrigan pair, Leflare and Zazel, favorite at 7 to 5. The Way was at 2 to 1 in the first betting, but he was the recipient of such a play that he closed equal favorite with the Corrigan pair at 3 to 2 and take your pick.

Jessie Jurboe led for the first mile and a half by from ten to fifteen lengths. On the run up the backstretch the second time around Leflare took command and it looked as if it was all over. The Way, however, set

The match is due to the controversy started at the last Intercollegiate tournament as to which is the better team. In that tournament the two did not meet: Princeton beating Pennsylvania and Harvard putting out in turn Columbia, Yale and Princeton. The Intercollegiate this year will be played at jarden City in October, according to what the collegians said at their annual meeting but the Yale and Princeton teams do not want to wait so long to settle the argument between their followers. If played on the last day of the jarden City tournament the cards could be counted in the handicap as well as in the match. The Metropolitan Life team did not make a good showing in the first Morningside League game at Cammann's sileys last night, but were in better form in the next contest. The scores:

PHILADELPHIA Pa., March 12.—Local golfers will start their season of active tournament play at an earlier date this year than has been the case in previous years. This is owing to the special request of Washington to play the return intercity team match at the earliest possible date and the determination of the players to play as many of the interclub team matches in the spring as could be arranged for. At to-day's meeting of the executive committee of the Golf. Association of Philadelphia the season's schedule of events to be played under its auspices was practically decided upon although the dates of the intercity matches will not be definite until the opposing clubs and associations have been heard from.

Frankford was elected as an allied member of the association and Bala, Lansdowne, and Camden County were elected conditionally upon their admission to the U. S. G. A., as the new constitution calls for. The application of the Delaware County Club for admission was held under advisement.

The Hundicap Committee was appointed as follows: Julian Wilson, chairman; W. P. Smith, A. J. P. Gallagher, J. I. Lineaweaver and J. S. Coale.

It is also said that the men take the cars out and rent them to pleasure parties without the knowledge of their employers. What the club will do is not known, but a member of it surgests that it could issue licenses to such garages as would agree to say no commissions to chauffeurs and have the club members asked not to patronice any station not licensed by the club.

A surgetty of good chauffeurs is said to exist, and this, it is believed, makes the dealers more helphose. The matter of establishing a school to graduate chauffeurs and issue certificaters of competency to them has been informally considered by the officers of the club and as if has not been learned that the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers has appointed a committee to consider the same propert.
